vaeezi, it's a misconception that gerd occurs because of increased acid production in your stomach, since generally, most people have the same amount of acid in their stomachs